Some of the Pittsburgh Emi-grants Looking This Way. The Pittsburgh Commercial of yesterday furnishes an outline of the report made by the committee sent to Arkaneas to see what prospects that State offered for intending coloniats. The report was not favorable. The chairman of the visiting Constitution did not strictly prohibit such a test. If we now had men as capations of the country heretolore given were overdrawn. The chief drawback was the unhealthfulness of the sections visited."

"While the committee did not see many actual cases of fever, the sallow, sickly appearance of some of the people indicated plainly its existence. They were friendly, gave kindly greating, but did not seem to have much eenough for a good hearty grip. Speaking of the productions, facilities for stock raising, &c., Mr. C. said no man can raise much more than his neighbor, for if he did the rest would steal from him, and they did not appear to regard petty larceny as a crime. There was difficulty, too, about land titles. During the reign of the "carpetbaggers" taxes were collected, but marked on the books "not paid," and land on which taxes are not paid is entered in the land department as State land. A man coming along and wishing to take up State lands would have a tract marked off for him. He would stat link would get his cabin built and make some improvements, when the owner of the land, who may be lives on the other.

An Example for West Virginia which taxes are not paid is entered in the land department as State land. A man coming along and wishing to take up State lands would have a tract marked off for him. He would take possession of it, and everything would go right till he would get his cabin built and make some improvements, when the owner of the land, who may be lives on the other end of the place and knew what was going on all the time, comes along and shows you his receipt for taxes in full, and claims his property. Then, of course, the squatter has to get up and dust out."

It seems that Mr. Caruthers' report did the land, who may be lives on the other and of the place and knew what was going on all the time, comes along and shows you his receipt for taxes in full, and claims his property. Then, of course, the squatter has to get up and dust out.

It seems that Mr. Caruthers' report did not satisfy some of the members who remained in the hall after adjournment to consider what steps they should take in furtherance of their determination to go to Arkansas despite the discouraging report made by the Committee. We presume that some of the Pittsburgers will go to Arkansas, whether or no, but there are others who, it seems, are looking to wards West Virginia as their future home. The Genetic says that agwest Virginia nucleus is forming in that city for the purpose of settling in this State and engaging in the mining of Coal and iron ore and the manufacture of iron. They are organizing on the co-operative system.

"At a meeting held recently Mr. J. J. Vinton was elected President of the Society; W. W. Alexander, Vice President; Isaac Cline, Treasurer; J. D. Smullen, Secretary; Wm. F. Willock, Corresponding Scoretary, and arrangements made for scorring a charter from the State of West Virginia. Ten miners, one engineer, one brakeman and one blacksmith have already gone, and others will follow as soon as natters can be arranged. It as soon as matters can be arranged. It was decided that those who first paid into the Society be first allowed to settle on the lands, and next those who were out

The Governor of Kentucky, in his Thanksgiving proclamation, eays in a beautiful manner:

"Our people have enjoyed civil and religious liberty, and been exempt from calcinguistics of war, pestilence and famine. Seed time and harvest, peace and plenty, have smiled throughout our Commonwealth, and the labor of the husbandman has been richly rewarded. Free suffrage, free echools, and free speech have extended their divine influences, and friendship and reconciliation have indicated a new era." offered to amend his bill for the issue of a popularloan. The original bill authorized the issue $100,000,000 bonds running sixty years and bearing 3,65 per cent.one-third the amount in denomination of one-third the amount in denomination of $100, one-third in $50, and one-third in $25, for the convenience of popular investment—the proceeds of the sale of them to be used in reducing an equal number of 6 per cent bonds now outstanding. The proposed amendments change the rate of interest from 3,65 to 4 per cent, and provide that the bonds shall be kept for sale at all the sub-treasuries and national depositories. They are to be registered, to protect the holder in case of loss, and provide the holder in case of loss, and proprotect the holder in case of loss, and provision is made for their easy transfer; the interest coupons are to be payable in either greenbacks or coin, as the govern-

The measure has two objects in view:
One is to effect a saving to the gorernment by replacing $100,000,000 6 per cent bonds with an equal amount of 4 per cent bonds, whereby the annual interest charge would be reduced $2,00,000; the other is to supply the people with a secure investment for savings which they hesitate to deposit in mismanaged savings banks.

The measure has two objects in view:

Some idea of the difference which an increase in the term makes in the marketable value of a bond can be found by comparing the difference in the quotation From the Lewiston, Me., Journai.

In conversation with one of the oldest dry goods merchants, to-day, he compared prices of articles, to-day, he compared prices of articles, to-day, with those that prevailed twenty-five or thirty years ago, when he was clerking in a country store. Then his employers would purchase a bashel of potatoes for twelve ceets, for which a yard of print would pay; now the same weight of potatoes represent the purchasing power of eight yards of print. To this, we think, it may be added, that the print is rather better in quality, and certainly in beauty, and the potatoes are not of so good a quality as then. of the coin 6's of 1881 and the currency 6's. The 6's of 1881, although payable in coin, have ranged from 110 to 111 recently, while the currency 6's which are payable in lawful money and may therefore be redeemed in greenbacks, have ranged from 1201 to 1211. The cause of this is that the coin 6's are payable after January 1, 1881, and the currency 6's can only be redeemed thirty years after their date, which will not be before 1895. There is a difference of fourteen to eighteen years between the coin 6's and the currency 6's, and the quotations show a steady difference of 10c to 11c in value.

THE Hartford Courant explains that the Ætna Life Insurance Company, represented in this city by Mr. A. H. It says that some years ago the Ætna Life made loans through Mr. Weed upon farm property, taking notes secured by mortgage upon such property. The loans were never for ginius" in Macon, (iz. Mr. Weed, to show his confidence in these loans, guaranteed or endorsed the notes, as it was his practice to do so in all cases where loans were made through him. The Ætna office attached no particular value to the guaranty, and accordingly the usual care of the company was exercised in making the loans, which fact is evinced by there being no interest in default upon any of them, the interest having been promptly met by the borrowers.

The failure therefore cannot effect the company, as no reliance was placed upon his guaranty. The company relied wholly and entirely upon the security, which is still undoubted.

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, FOR THE CURE OF LIVER CONTLAINT, &co.

These Pills are alterative, and produce a healthy action of the liver, without the least danger, as they are free from calomel, and yet most efficacious in restoring a healthy action of the liver.

These remedies are a certain cure for Consumption, as the Pulmonic Syrup ripens the matter and purifies the blood. The Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, create a healthy bile, and remove all diseases of the liver, often a cause of Consumption The Sta Weed Tonic gives tone and strength to the stomach, makes a good direction, and enables the organs to form good blood; and thus creates a healthy circulation of healthy blood. The combined action of these medicines, as thus explained, will cure every case of Consumption, if taken in time, and the use of the medicines persevered in.
